

Do more at Meadowbrook

Dear Editor,

Indeed we must, "... do our part," (editorial July 19, 2006) for the environment, our environment! However, the felling of 56 trees in Meadowbrook Golf Courses's forest in Côte St. Luc, runs counter to the sentiments of your editorial. The trees were mowed down in a haphazard fashion and laid waste to an ecosystem which harbours wildflowers, birds, frogs, foxes and other wildlife.

In this age of sustainable development, global climate change, pollution mitigation and the paucity of natural spaces in the Montreal area, Fairmont Hotels and Resorts, the owner of the site, must be encouraged to restore and renaturalize the area.
